Property Description

This 1.5 acre private estate sits on a hillside, surrounded by the jungle but accessed by paved road. The design of this architectural wonder has taken the surrounding environment into account, capturing the beauty of the forest with views over the tree canopy to the ocean beyond. The gated entry leads you up the driveway to the covered portico and striking feature wall of the home. Your visiting guests will be filled with anticipation of what wonders lay behind. The villa brings tropical modern architecture to nature's front door. Sliding walls of glass open to the outdoors giving the illusion of floating above the trees. The warm wood tones with natural stone and tile accents blend the home's interior with the outdoor living areas and infinity edge salt water pool, surrounded by lush gardens filled with Costa Rica's diverse wildlife. The living plan includes the kitchen with a massive quartz island so chefs and guests can all be a part of the evening's gathering after a day of adventure on the ocean or in the rainforest.
