Property Description

This remarkable 78-hectare property (approximately 192.7 acres or 780,000 square meters) is located in the serene area of Guarumal, Puriscal, and represents a unique opportunity for investors, developers, or anyone seeking a vast natural sanctuary. Its privileged location near national parks and important biological corridors makes it highly suitable for eco-tourism, conservation projects, or sustainable residential or commercial development. The estate features extensive mature forests, natural rivers, and beautiful waterfalls that create an exceptional natural atmosphere. Its rich biodiversity, including a wide range of flora and wildlife, positions the property as an excellent setting for eco-lodges, hiking and nature trails, glamping developments, wellness retreats, or environmental education initiatives. The terrain also lends itself well to agricultural purposes, including cattle ranching or mixed-use rural development.
