Property Description

A New Way of Designing, Building, and Living in the Tropics - Prices range from $220,000 to $2,000,000. This one-of-a-kind sustainable real estate development is the perfect scenario for people looking for comfort in the rainforest. This community was created for owners that believe in environmentally-conscious practices, outdoor activities, and wellness, as a form of living. The design fundamentals are based on framing the surroundings, as a way of bringing nature indoors while in the security and comfort of a luxury residential development. "GREEN" Homes Every facet of the Dulce Pacifico community is based on the concept of eco-friendly homes and amenities From battery-powered lawn care tools used by our greens keepers (which will include solar-powered charging stations) to solar-powered road lighting,our team has thoughtfully designed a nature-friendly environment for our residents.
